

A delegation from Comptons University in Madrid, Spain visited the university

Author: Office of International Exchange and Cooperation Article Source: Office of International Exchange and Cooperation Clicks: 112 Updated: 2019-05-28

On the morning of May 27, Frank Bernard Babinger, dean of the School of Tourism and Trade of Comptons University in Madrid, Spain, and his delegation visited our school. Wang Ai qin, deputy director of the Department of International Exchange and Cooperation, presided over the meeting, and Liu Jilu, vice president of the Business School, and other relevant teachers participated in the meeting.

At the meeting, Wang Ai qin warmly welcomed Frank Bernard Babinger and his entourage. She made a brief introduction to the history of our school and the current general situation of running the school, hoping that the two schools would strengthen exchanges and cooperation. Frank thanked the school for its warm reception and briefly introduced the general situation of Comptons University in Madrid, hoping that teachers and students of the two universities would carry out multi-dimensional and multi-level cooperation. Liu Jilu, vice president of the business school, briefly introduced the general situation of the business school, especially the professional setting and the operation of tourism management majors.

During the talks, the two sides held detailed consultations on short-term student exchange projects, undergraduate double academic programs, teacher exchange visits projects, scientific research cooperation and other projects. In addition, the two sides also discussed the possibility of carrying out paid internship programs for students majoring in tourism management. At the meeting, the two sides signed the Agreement on Academic Exchange and Cooperation between Taizhou College and the Language Center of Comptons University in Spain. The two schools have officially established a long-term and stable in-depth cooperative relationship.

Comptons University of Madrid is the number one public university in Spain and the largest and most complete comprehensive university in Spain. The school has 26 higher education centers and 304 officially recognized degrees. In addition, Comptons University of Madrid has 48 specialized institutes and colleges, 21 research hospitals and clinics. The university currently has nearly 90,000 students, including nearly 10,000 Spanish overseas students and 7,000 employees. Comptons University ranked 206th in the global QS rankings in 2019. The strength of various disciplines in the university is balanced, basically ranking in the top 200 in the world, and some disciplines are among the top 50 in the world. Especially in the field of liberal arts education, journalism, medicine, history, etc., it is in a leading position.

• Previous article: British Consular Delegation in Shanghai Visits to School

• Next article: Deputy Secretary Kim Xianlong of our school led a delegation to visit Japanese and Korean universities

Copyright Statement

Copyright© 2006 International Exchange and Cooperation Office of Taizhou College (Hong Kong, Macao and Taiwan Office)

Address: No. 1139 Shifu Avenue, Taizhou City, Zhejiang ZIP: 318000 TEL: 0576-88665785 FAX: 0576-88665785

Power System Of Article Management Ver 3.0 Build 20030628. Powered by WEBBOY.